B. Bronx District Attorney's (DA) Office: Domestic Violence Information Session by Heather McMahon, DV Supervisor and Police Officer Wells

1. When you see physical abuse and/or murder, there are events that lead to this incident, such as harassment, physical assault, and strangulation.
 - a) Strangulation is very underreported. It happens so quickly where the perpetrator will grab the victim's neck and the victim can lose consciousness in 5 minutes. The perpetrator doesn't know that their actions can lead to death.
 - b) Sexual assault is also underreported and the DA's office has 20 employees to help victims, which is a sign that more people are coming in to report domestic violence. Many victims have a hard time bringing loved ones to justice.
2. Therefore, the DA offers several programs to help domestic violence victims:
 - a) Safe Horizons –
 - (1) The organization helps to change the locks of the victims' apartments and helps with restitution
 - b) Family Justice Center –
 - (1) The center helps victims to apply for public benefits, shelter, housing, and they provide mental health and counseling services to victims and their children.
 - (2) The center also provides information on job training programs, including resume writing and interviewing skills, and referrals to education programs, including workshops with budgeting, credit repair, and English as a Second Language (ESL) classes.

- (3) Finally, the center provides legal help for orders of protection, custody, visitation, child support, divorce, housing, and immigration.
 - (4) They are also connected to trained law enforcement, such as NYPD, NYC Sheriff's Office, and District Attorney's Office
3. Crime Victims Assistance Bureau (CVAB) -
- a) The CVAB assists anyone, whether or not there's been a police report, an arrest, or a prosecution and regardless of the time that has passed since the incident occurred.
 - b) The CVAB provides supportive services including: crisis intervention, individual and group therapy for the victim and family members, and assistance in filing a claim for victim compensation through the NYS Office of Victim Services.
 - c) The CVAB also helps victims, witnesses and their families navigate through the court system and accompany them to court if needed.
 - d) Their staff includes Crime Victim, Domestic Violence, Elder Abuse and Rape Victims Advocates and Trauma Therapists. The CVAB has a satellite office in the northeast Bronx.

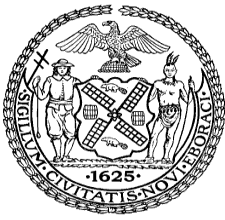

C. Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB)

1. The CCRB investigates complaints about police officers abusing their power of authority.
2. The board is non-biased and their investigations determine if the police officer was uncourteous and using inappropriate conduct.
3. If an officer was found abusing their power of authority, the board then gives recommendations on how to discipline the police officer.
4. The CCRB will conduct outreach with the Bronx public, especially young people, to discuss the following:
