

GET BACK TO BUILDING EXTENDING THROUGH JUNE TO ACCELERATE DEVELOPMENT

With Nearly 200 Approvals in May the Program Will Extend through June Helping to Jumpstart Hundreds More Projects & Create Jobs Citywide

On May 4, 2015 the Department of Buildings launched Get Back To Building, an initiative intended to get delayed projects back on track and construction workers back on jobsites. Throughout the month of May, nearly 200 jobs were approved when attendees met after hours with plan examiners to resolve objections and to get their construction applications moved to approval.

Due to the success of the May launch, the program will be extended through June. Over the next month, the Department is available to licensed architects and engineers, developers, filing representatives and property owners whose projects have not yet been approved and have outstanding objections from previous Department plan examinations. As in past initiatives, agency experts will work with the applicants during these sessions to resolve plan objections and develop solutions in order to approve new buildings as well as major and minor alterations.

Schedule an appointment that works for you and Get Back to Building!

GET BACK TO BUILDING

In June, get back to building. From 5pm to 7pm meet with plan examiners to resolve objections and approve your plan work application. All application types are welcome. Appointments are required.

Bronx	June 2, 9, 16, 23, 30
Brooklyn	June 1, 8, 15, 22, 29
Manhattan	June 1, 8, 15, 22, 29
Queens	June 4, 11, 18, 25
Staten Island	June 2, 9, 16, 23, 30
The Hub	June 1, 8, 15, 22, 29

Schedule your Get Back to Building appointment by emailing GetBackToBuilding@buildings.nyc.gov. Executive staff will be on hand. Applicants of record must be present. All Hub appointments will be virtual.

nyc.gov/buildings

build safe | live safe

NYC
Buildings