MOPD Updates

■ MOPD Website and MOPD: Disaster Resilience and Resource Network

The screenshot shows the 'Emergency Preparedness' page on the MOPD website. The navigation bar includes 'Home', 'About', 'Employment', 'Resources', 'Laws', 'Initiatives', and 'Events'. The main heading is 'Emergency Preparedness'. On the left, there is a sidebar with links for 'Housing', 'Social Services & Benefits', 'Transportation', 'Emergency Preparedness', 'Education', 'Legal', and 'Recreation & Culture'. The main content area features the title 'Emergency Preparedness for People with Disabilities' and a paragraph stating: 'The Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities (MOPD) is committed to the principles of inclusive emergency management and a whole community approach to preparing, responding, recovering and mitigating emergencies and disasters.' Below this, it says 'MOPD supports the coordination of many of the City's efforts to provide programs and services during emergencies that are accessible to all New Yorkers. MOPD does this by working closely with New York City Emergency Management (NYCEM), other City agencies, members of the disability community, organizations and service providers.' A link for 'How to Prepare' is visible at the bottom.

The screenshot shows the 'MOPD Disaster Resilience & Resource Network' page. The navigation bar is the same as the previous screenshot. The main heading is 'Emergency Preparedness'. Below it, there is a sidebar with links for 'Housing', 'Social Services & Benefits', 'Transportation', 'Emergency Preparedness', 'Education', 'Legal', 'Recreation & Culture', and 'Disability-Specific Resources'. The main content area features the title 'MOPD Disaster Resilience & Resource Network' and a central graphic with icons representing various disabilities. To the right, there is a 'Frequently Asked Questions' section with the heading 'What is the Disaster Resilience and Resource Network?' and a paragraph explaining the network's purpose and structure. Below this, it states 'The Network is led by MOPD in close coordination with New York City Emergency Management (NYCEM). The Network meets quarterly or as otherwise needed to address issues related to disaster resiliency and integrated emergency management for people with disabilities. The Network'.

The screenshot shows the 'Important Resources' section. It lists two resources: 'FEMA's Guidance for Planning for Integration of Functional Needs Support Services in General Population Shelters' and 'New York City Emergency Management's Be Involved Page'. Below these, there is a 'Back to Top' link. The section also includes 'Past Meetings of the Disabilities Resilience and Resource Network' with a sub-heading 'June 23rd 2017 Meeting:' and three links: 'Meeting Notes', 'Handouts/Slides', and 'Back to Top'.

Using Social Media During Emergencies

Importance of Messaging & Listening

Tamer Hadi

Director of Strategic Technology
Office of Emergency Preparedness and Response
NYC Dept. of Health & Mental Hygiene
@tamer_hadi

@nycHealthy

Social Media is now a critical component of emergency preparedness, response and recovery

Government MUST use Social Media...Everyday

Not just OUTBOUND information...but also INBOUND

After an Emergency...

Outbound Official Information is Critical

1. Provide Public Situational Awareness

- What you know and do not know
- Control the story as quickly as possible

2. Build Public Credibility/Trust

- Establish audience before emergency

3. Direct Engagement with the Community

- Two-way communication

Inbound Information

Social Media Monitoring / Listening is just as Critical

1. Situational Awareness

- Latest developments, Pics, videos, Public Commentary

2. Assess How Well / Poorly Message Getting Across

- Unanswered questions or confusion
- Reach of public messaging

3. Rumor, Misinformation, Reputation Control

- Identify and dispel false information
- Respond to questions and mentions
- Opinions on agency response operations/services

Announced March 2017:

[we change]

IT'S THE MOST IMPORTANT THING WE'VE LEARNED IN 70 YEARS

ADAPT Community Network, formerly United Cerebral Palsy of New York City, is the leading human service not-for-profit and a pioneer in providing cutting edge programs and services for people with disabilities. Every day, we build a more inclusive world for thousands of New Yorkers through education, technology, health, residential and recreational programs in all five boroughs.

What is TR Aid?

- Driven by Federal Acts
 - Technology Related Assistance for Individuals with Disabilities Act (1988)
 - The Assistive Technology Act (1998, amended 2004)
- The TR Aid Program of NYS
 - Administered by the NYS Justice Center
 - Partially funded by the Rehabilitation Services Adm inistration
 - Collaborates with the NYS Dept. of Health, (NYC Early Intervention & Money Follows the Person Programs) and ACCES-VR
 - Oversees 12 Regional TR Aid Centers

NYS Assistive Technology Act Program: the TR Aid Program
(Technology Related Assistance for Individuals with Disabilities)

- Provides partial funding, allowing us to provide free public services:
 - to children and adults of any age, with any disability,
 - to enable “individuals with disabilities, service providers and others to learn about, access, and acquire assistive technology (AT) needed for education, employment, and community living.”
 - for various types of AT
- Features partnerships with NYC/NYS Dept. of Health as well as ACCES-VR

ADAPT Community Network: TechWorks

Free Public Services

- Demonstrations: Try any device in our extensive inventory with someone skilled in its use.
- 60-day Loans: If you don't need our skilled assistance, you can borrow many of our devices to decide if they are right for you. Loans may also be available for repair or funding delays, training activities, or for short term needs like recovery from surgery.
- Open Ended Loans and Reutilization: May be available for items/devices that have been donated to us.
- Training: Covering a wide range of AT topics for both individuals and groups.
- Public Awareness: Invite us to your conference or resource fair!
- Information and Assistance: Where can you buy something or find an AT service? What do experts say about best practices? Are there free, low cost or make-your-own solutions? You probably have questions. We can answer them. We also provide some technical and troubleshooting assistance.
