

NYC Sexual Health Clinics

NYC Sexual Health Clinics provide low-cost and no-cost services for anyone age 12 and older, regardless of immigration or insurance status. Parental consent is not needed to access these services, and most services are provided on a walk-in basis, with a limited capacity each day.

Services include:

- Sexually transmitted infection (STI) screening, testing and treatment
- HIV testing and treatment initiation for people newly diagnosed with HIV
- HIV post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) and pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) initiation and counseling
- Emergency contraception
- Birth control methods, including intrauterine devices (IUDs) and implant services (by appointment)
- Medication abortion (abortion pills)
- Mpox testing, treatment and vaccination
- HPV, hep A, hep B and meningitis vaccination

For up-to-date information on clinic services and hours, call 311, scan the QR code or visit nyc.gov/health/sexualhealthclinics. See our regular clinic hours (which are subject to change) and locations below. For appointments for Express Clinic visits and rapid testing for STIs, visit bit.ly/sti-scheduling.
