STATEMENT OF DOI COMMISSIONER MARK G. PETERS

“The policy changes announced by the NYPD today in response to DOI’s Use of Force report are an important first step, but only a first step. The NYPD must still develop a plan for de-escalation training and improve its disciplinary process. Suggestions that today’s announcement represents a full resolution to this problem are premature.”

DOI is one of the oldest law-enforcement agencies in the country and New York City’s corruption watchdog. Investigations may involve any agency, officer, elected official or employee of the City, as well as those who do business with or receive benefits from the City. DOI’s strategy attacks corruption comprehensively through systemic investigations that lead to high-impact arrests, preventive internal controls and operational reforms that improve the way the City runs.
