Active Shooter and Medical Emergency Preparedness curriculum introduction

- The current EAP course does not satisfy the requirements.
- This new curriculum has been approved by the NYPD Shield.

What's new?

The curriculum:

- Clarifies and expands information in the EAP on-site material.
- Discusses different challenges in various occupancies during an active shooter emergency.
- Includes medical emergency preparedness.
- Provides exercises on real active shooter incidents.

Real cases

- This new curriculum provides real active shooter cases that occurred in different occupancies. The instructor must select at least one case from each category (hotel, public assembly, school, and office) to have an open discussion and classroom exercise with the students.
- The instructor should ask every student to prepare answers for the case questions and compare to the FDNY's recommendations.

Example of case study

- Case detail:

On July 5, 2015, a man was in the lobby area of the Omni hotel, Austin TX, pacing back and forth, carrying a rifle. The man then suddenly shot a random bystander. When officers arrived, he exchanged shots with the responding officers throughout the hotel lobby. The shooter ultimately was shot and killed by a police officer.

Sample questions of the discussion and exercise

- Assume you are in a safe location. You are informed that a person is pacing around the lobby of the hotel with a rifle. What action should you take?
- You are in a safe location and are capable of making a notification to all the hotel occupants. What is the content of the notification you will make?
- You are in a safe location. If the shooter starts to fire shots before police arrive, what action should you take? What is the content of the notification you will make, if it is safe to do so?

Real case

- The FDNY provides “recommendation answers” for all case questions for students. The schools must provide this material to all students after the course.
- The new curriculum also provides real active shooter cases where civilians took actions to stop shootings or to prevent further injuries. The instructor must go through all of these cases to have an open discussion with the students.

Medical emergency

- The FLS Director is NOT expected to:
 - Provide any personal medical care
- The FLS Director is expected to:
 - Call 911
 - Train the building occupants to call 911 and the FLS Director for medical emergency incidents
 - Know the locations of defibrillators and which building occupant(s) are qualified and willing to provide cardio-pulmonary resuscitation
 - Designate a FLS staff to meet emergency responders
 - Provide assistance for the emergency responders to quickly access the medical emergency and transport the patient including securing an elevator for first responders' use if the patient is not on street level
